

Monique Jammer, Esq.

Monique Jammer brings commitment to exceptional service and creative strategy to her litigation practice. She has a successful track record in a wide variety of complex legal matters, including commercial litigation, regulatory compliance, and employment law. She also dedicates meaningful time to community service for various organizations, with an emphasis on providing resources to underrepresented and insecure citizens across Nevada.

Prior to Brownstein, Monique worked locally as an associate attorney at a national litigation firm and served as a judicial law clerk to Judge Adriana Escobar of Nevada's Eighth Judicial District Court. While in law school, Monique clerked with various small law firms and a major casino corporation; served as the Student Bar Association president, vice president and class representative; and was a board member for both the Western Region of the National Black Law Students Association and the law school chapter of the National Black Students Association.
